

Pleurotus djamor var djamor

Pleurotus djamor var djamor © SJM McMullan-Fisher

Cap: 25-55 mm radius; fan, flabelliform to pleurotoid shaped; white, cream to pale yellow in older specimens; dry smooth, margins maybe irregular often lobate. Maybe single or caspitiose in tiers.

Stipe: absent to reduced, <5 mm radius; laterally to eccentrically attached.

Gills: decurrent, close, white to cream.

Flesh: thin, concolourous.

Spores: 10.5 x 3.5 µm; subcylindrical, smooth, hyaline, inamyloid.

Microscopic characters: skeletal hyphae present.

Habitat:

Substrate:

Notes: Matches description for micro and macro characters from Dennis Lechner BE, Wright JE, Alberto E (2004) SMF2541 22 Aug 2010. Lechner BE, Wright JE, Alberto E (2004) The genus Pleurotus in Argentina. Mycologia 96, 845-858.

Collections examined: SMF2541 Mary Cairncross 28/06/2010.